DEFEAT FOR LAFOLLETTE

WISCONSIN "STALWARTS" SECURE SEATS

United States Senators Win Out in Fight for Recognition Before Republican National Committee.

Chicago, June 17.—John Olin, of Madison, made the first speech for the "stalwarts" in the Wisconsin contest before the national committee to day, covering much of the contest before the Wisconsin state committee and spoke of the manner in which the state convention was conducted.

G. E. Rowe, of New York, formerly associated with Governor La Follette, opened for that side. He claimed the state central committee in making up the preliminary roll did not exceed its authority, but followed a precedent long established in Wisconsin. He denied improper methods were used in conducting the convention.

H. W. Chynoweth, of Madison, Wis., followed Rowe. Chynoweth told the committee that by unanimous vote of the state central committee La Follette was given 55 votes on the temporary roll of the convention, and that this was a majority of the 105 delegates elected. Notice of meeting of the opposite faction, he said, was that of an anti-third term caucus and at no time were there present a majority of delegates elected to the state convention. He continued: "By the notice Republicans were barred unless they believed in the narrow idea of opposition to a third term. The committee on credentials was appointed by this caucus. It seated delegates without any notice or opportunity for hearing. There was no hearing on contests."

M. G. Jefferies, of Janesville, Wis., closed the arguments for the "stalwart" faction. He charged the supporters of La Follette were not loyal to the party; that La Follette in a speech had advised Social Democrats to go to Republican caucuses and vote, and that in the governor's campaign some of his meetings were presided over by Bryan Democrats, who announced they would vote for La Follette. He asserted more than 33 per cent of the vote of Republican caucuses was Democratic. He made a number of other charges along these lines, pointing out alleged improper methods, which, he said, the opposing side had used to obtain as many delegates as they did.

The vote by which the "stalwart" delegates-at-large were seated was then taken by the committee, and was unanimous.

The fifth Missouri district contest was then decided. A. C. Kinnear, J. A. McLane, A. W. Love and J. H. Harris were seated, each being given half a vote. The committee affirmed the report of the subcommittee on selection of temporary officers for the convention. These will be Charles W. Johnson, Minneapolis, secretary; John P. Molloy, Ohio, first assistant secretary; Elhu Root, temporary chairman; William F. Stone, sergeant-at-arms; David C. Owen, Milwaukee, first assistant sergeant-at-arms.

A resolution passed that members of the Republican national committee are instructed to call a meeting of their respective delegations not later than Monday evening for selection of members of various committees.

In the twenty-first Illinois district H. N. Schuyler was given a seat over Abner G. Murray. Schuyler was elected by the faction favorable to Hamlin in the late gubernatorial contest, while Murray was a Yates man. The question in this contest was over the fact that a convention was called before all primaries had been held. The committee decided that the proceedings were regular.

"Stalwart" delegates-at-large who were seated are Senators Spooner and Quarles, Congressman Babcock and Emil Baensch. Leaders of La Follette's side announced their determination to carry the fight to the end and it is probable, in spite of the decision of the committee, the dispute will again be fought out before the committee on credentials in the national convention.

The anti-La Follette men were equally determined to continue the contest. The Spooner adherents asserted the first legal action to be taken would come from their side and would very likely be in the form of mandamus proceedings to compel the placing of their candidates, headed by Samuel A. Cook for governor, on the official ballot of the state, or else an action to prevent the representation of the La Follette ticket on the ballot.

The Wisconsin supreme court meets in August and it was said the matter would be ready to be presented by that time. It is contended by the "stalwarts" that the action of the committee in recognizing them will determine the decision of the supreme court.

After the vote to seat the "stalwarts" was taken La Follette and several supporters who had come from Wisconsin left the committee room immediately and took the train for home.

USED CHLOROFORM.

Superior, Wis., June 17.—Dr. John J. Oulm, a prominent physician, formerly of Detroit, committed suicide by the use of chloroform. Domestic trouble.

IOWANS AT FAIR

Throng Visit the Exposition at St. Louis—A Number of Addresses Made.

St. Louis, June 17.—Iowa came to the front to day and its citizens visited the world's fair in throngs. Liberal advertising and reduced railroad rates had the effect of attracting a larger attendance than any state day, except Missouri day, has done. A military parade formed at the Iowa pavilion and marched to the Iowa monument at the head of the cascades. The monument was presented to Iowa by Isaac S. Taylor, director of works of the exposition, and accepted by Commissioner Leroy A. Palmer, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. The parade then returned and counter-marched to the state pavilion, where the program was carried out. Addresses were made by Governor Cummins, former Gov. William Larrabee, President of Iowa World's Fair Commission Thomas D. Healy, of Mt. Dodge, and President David R. Francis of the exposition.

SHOT BY A STRANGER.

Des Moines, June 17.—Harry Allen, 14, living near Osceola, was found lying bleeding in the road by his brother yesterday afternoon. A bullet had pierced his forehead. He lived only long enough to say he had been shot by a strange man who rose from the bushes as he passed along the road. Officers, however, take little stock in the story and expect to find some one living in this vicinity fired the fatal shot.

PAPERS SERVED

Governor Peabody and Others Notified of Damage Suit Against Them.

Denver, June 17.—Papers in the $100,000 damage suit of the Portland Gold Mining company against Governor Peabody, Adjutant General Bell, C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the mine owners' association, and others connected with that body, as well as Sheriff Bell and his deputies, who assisted in closing the Portland mine, were served on the governor to day. The governor this afternoon received notice of application to United States Circuit Judge Thayer, of St. Louis, for an injunction to restrain the governor, military and other persons from interfering with the operation of the Portland mine.

It is reported James P. Burns, president of the Portland Mining company, has declared his intention to defray all expenses of suits that may be brought in the federal court against Governor Peabody and others by the Portland miners who were deported from Cripple Creek.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Marshalltown, Iowa, June 17.—Edwin J. Hoover, of Iowa Falls, a traveling man, was arrested at Webster City to day on a charge of bigamy preferred by Nettie Travis Hoover, his first wife, who lives at Plymouth, Ind. He married a second wife at Dubuque two years ago. He is in jail and his arrest caused a sensation.

ESCAPE PENALTIES

Decision of Judge Frees Owners of "Mr. Bluebeard Co."

Chicago, June 17.—According to a decision to day by Judge Brown in the state circuit court Marce Klaw and Abraham Bringer, owners of the "Mr. Bluebeard" company, will escape penalties which might have followed their connection with the Troquois theatre fire last December. The judge quashed services of a summons served upon their agent in a suit brought for damages by relatives of one of the fire victims. The court declared the theatrical managers must be served personally with the summons, and, as neither is a resident of Chicago, personal service is impossible.

PRIZE FIGHT.

Chicago, June 17.—Frank Nell, of San Francisco, to night knocked out Harry Forbes in the third round. The final blow lifted Forbes clear off his feet and he struck the floor on the top of his head. He did not recover consciousness for several minutes.

CUT HIS THROAT.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 17.—Charles S. McCoy, an attorney of Chicago, committed suicide to day by cutting his throat with a razor. McCoy, it is said, in the last few days lost $10,000 speculating in stocks.

HITT'S CONDITION IMPROVED.

Washington, June 17.—Representative Hitt of Illinois is confined to his house suffering from the effect of an attack of acute indigestion, but his condition is improved to night.

ADDRESS BY CORTELYOU.

Westfield, Mass., June 17.—Secretary Cortelyou delivered an address to night at a banquet given him by the board of trade. He formerly attended school here and on his arrival was given an ovation.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE COMPLETE

FOR REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION

Delegates Will Assemble at Chicago Coliseum Tuesday June 21—Fairbanks or Hitt Most Likely Candidates for Vice President.

Chicago, June 17.—The opening session of the 13th convention of the Republican party will be called to order at noon June 21, in the Coliseum building, Wabash avenue and Eighteenth street, by Henry C. Payne, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, and postmaster general. Probably not since the days of Washington and Grant has a body of men having to do with the selection of the governing personnel of this nation met under what might be called such unanimous conditions as a proposed ticket and platform.

Contrary to many early predictions of a lack of general public interest in this convention because of the foregone conclusion that President Roosevelt would be re-nominated, the crowds of visitors are expected to literally overrun the city's hotels, while hundreds are vainly endeavoring to secure entrance tickets to the Coliseum. Two weeks ago the price of convention tickets was quoted at $50, and to day instances are cited where almost double that figure was offered for the coveted pastedowns.

CROWD TO BE LIMITED.

Six thousand seven hundred persons will compose the gathering of citizens at the opening ceremonies. Almost twice that number would listen to the proceedings had there been room, but no one will be admitted to the vast building who is not provided with a seat.

ROOT TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

The temporary organization of the convention having been effected, former Secretary of War Elhu Root, of New York, will take the gavel as temporary chairman. At the close of Mr. Root's speech the temporary organization of the convention being in full swing, an adjournment will probably be taken until 10 o'clock Wednesday.

SECOND DAY'S PROGRAM.

The first business of the second session, which names the permanent chairman of the committee on permanent organization, which names their permanent chairman of the convention. Then will follow the reading of resolutions for adoption. The most important of these will be the platform embodying the issue upon which the Republican party will go to the polls.

Long discussions of some of the paragraphs of the platform are unavoidable, but these expressions of differing opinions will be reduced to the shortest possible time, and it is reasonably certain that the platform will be adopted in ample time to clear a way for the business of naming the ticket, which will likely occur Wednesday morning if the work of the session is expeditious.

BLACK TO NAME ROOSEVELT.

President Roosevelt will be placed in nomination by former Gov. Frank Black, of New York, whose speech is expected to be a rouser of enthusiasm as well as a glowing panegyric of the strenuous executive. The seconding speeches will be made by Senator Beveridge, of Indiana; George A. Knight, of California; Harry Stillwell Edwards, of Georgia; Joseph B. Cotton, of Minnesota, and Harry S. Cummings, of Maryland. These probably will conclude the second day's session.

ONLY CHANCE FOR CONTEST.

Thursday is expected to reveal the name of the running mate of President Roosevelt, and, if there is to be anything at all like a scrimmage for political preferment during the convention, it will make its appearance then. The majority of opinion has it that Senator Fairbanks will be coupled with the president, though the Illinois friends of Mr. Hitt and the adherents of the Nebraskan, John L. Webster, hope to make an impression. The fact that Illinois is represented in the person of the speaker of the house has been a deterrent feature to the candidacy of Mr. Hitt—a candidacy that might be termed an 11th hour affair, for it practically was unborn prior to the Republican state convention of Illinois, which endorsed the able member of the foreign relations committee of the house for the place.

CORTELYOU TO BE CHAIRMAN.

As the old national committee went out of existence by limitation and their successors were elected by the state delegations to meet as soon as practicable after the nomination, the new committee will not be able to convene until the fourth day. At this meeting organization for campaign work will be effected. As the selection of a chairman is left to the nominee for president, it is almost certain that Mr. Roosevelt will name Secretary of Commerce and Labor George B. Cortelyou to direct the coming campaign.

ARRANGEMENTS SUPREME.

Since the first national conventions of 1852, held in Baltimore, there has been no such gathering of party hosts. Compared with this one and the business methods used to house and manage it without friction. The convention arrangements will be most admirable and unusual. None save sergeant-at-arms will be permitted to stand in the aisles. Uniformed messengers will deliver messages from the twelve long distance telephone booths and the telegraph office under the stage floor. Behind the speaker's stand is the division allotted to the distinguished guests, and encircling that are the seats of 300 newspaper correspondents.

Twenty-five stenographers and telegraph operators in the service of various news bureaus and press associations will be seated at tables just below the speaker's table. The monster convention will be conducted along lines of a well ordered industrial plant.

ELECTRIC BUTTONS DO THE WORK.

From a single controlling point, invisible to all within the hall, the managers will direct every movement. By means of a private system of telephones, Col. Wm. F. Stone, collector of customs of Baltimore and sergeant-at-arms of the convention, will control all details. Everything is expected to operate like clockwork. A button will be pushed and the band will play. The same button will be pushed twice and the music will cease. The vast machinery necessary to handle 184 delegates and alternates and an army of doorkeepers, ushers and other assistants, is expected to operate noiselessly and perfectly. The hall will be elevated on a stand above the second gallery, where the rounded, hollow walls of the big building will send the volume of inspiring melody out with majestic effect. The press section and stage floors will be carpeted.

A "BUSINESS CONVENTION."

Adjoining the auditorium is an annex that was built from the materials of old Libby prison. In this annex will be the rooms of the national committee and subcommittees. Retiring rooms for ladies and smoking rooms for men will be appreciated conveniences. "Spiritual comfort" for the thirsty is not to be had any where about the building, all efforts on the part of liquor vendors to secure concessions at enormous prices having failed. Not even the lovely ham sandwich may be obtained within the walls. It was argued that as this was going to be a business convention it will keep "business hours," hence there will be due time to eat and attend to the wants of humanity in general without making a circus of the Coliseum building.

This will be the first time in the history of national conventions that all the managers have been under the same roof with the main body of delegates, and so far as is known no previous convention of any party ever was conducted on such a systematic basis as the Republican convention of 1904.

EPIDEMIC OF CONSERVATISM

RESULTS IN INJURY TO INDUSTRY

Presidential Election and Theory of Every Ten Year Depression Combine to Produce Reaction in Business.

New York, June 17.—Dun's report of trade says: Industry suffers from an epidemic of ultra conservatism, emanating apparently from the theory that a season of depression must come every ten years, while the coincidence of presidential election furnishes another precedent. As a result stocks of merchandise have been reduced, railway traffic lessened, preparations for future business curtailed and less money is distributed in the form of wages, while those having capital to invest confine their attention to the highest classes of bonds or hold for still lower security prices. All these factors have combined to produce a reaction entirely out of proportion to natural readjustment that was really started by abnormally high prices of raw materials and other excessive cost of production, resulting in the accumulation of goods that could not be sold at a profit. The crop outlook is improving and there is a fundamental weakness in the nation's commercial or financial position.

Failures this week numbered 27 in the United States, against 23 last year.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT.

Bradstreet's says: Favorable features this week are further improvement shown in leading crops and ending of the tie-up on the great lakes. Wheat, oats and cotton have improved, but corn is still backward, owing to cool weather. General trade and industry have remained quiet, and may be said to have "marked time." A notable underlying feature of the entire situation is the feeling that an average crop of wheat and large yields of other cereals and of cotton now in prospect, a good fall and winter business is to be looked for. Prices of leading products have felt the influence of crop news, wheat, oats and cotton declining, while corn has remained very steady on reports of backward conditions and small supplies offered. Railways earnings reflect the current quietness in business and the decrease of three-fifths per cent of gross in May and six per cent in April net, indicated last week, are confirmed by fuller details. Transportation business generally is better than in 1902. Bank clearings, a more immediate reflection of current business, show an enlargement over last week, but the grand totals will still show recession from a year ago. Leading industries generally display a quietness. Iron and steel are dull and production is being curtailed, but price weakness is less manifest. Lumber trade is fairly active in the northwest, but rather dull east.

BANK CLEARINGS.

The total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the week show $1,853,573,819, a decrease of 15.6 per cent as compared with the corresponding week last year.

AMERICAN DERBY

Great Race Will Be Run to Day—Irish Lad the Favorite.

Chicago, June 17.—The American derby will be run at Washington park to morrow for the first time in the history of the race with a determined attempt to prohibit betting. Three hundred policemen will be there to enforce Mayor Harrison's order against betting. Officials of the track have notified the authorities they will assist to enforce the law and indications to night are the derby will be decided without the excitement of open betting.

Out of 119 horses originally named sixteen are carried to start to morrow afternoon. English Lad is favorite to night at 2 to 1. Moharib and Highball are equal second choices at 7 to 2.

Washington, June 17.—The American battleship squadron has sailed from Lisbon for ports in Greece and Austria. It is reported this fleet will be reinforced by the European squadron under Jewell and that this formidable fleet will visit Turkish waters about the time Minister Leishman renews negotiations with the Porte to secure for Americans in Turkey the same rights as enjoyed by citizens of privileged European nations.

ROBBERS SECURED LITTLE BOOTY.

St. Paul, June 17.—Officials of the Northern Pacific to day stated the robbers secured nothing of great value in the train holdup near Bearmouth, Mont.

BANK'S SHORTAGE.

Zanesville, Ohio, June 17.—According to a statement of Receiver Crane, of the Commercial bank of Cambridge, the shortage in the bank's funds is $100,000. Cashier Butler and Vice President Barber are full members.

SAVED BY FOG

Vladivostok Squadron Escapes From Japanese—Sinking of Transports by Russians.

London, June 17.—The Japanese legation received a dispatch from Tokyo announcing the Vladivostok squadron was sighted off Okla Island.

New Chwang, June 17.—Two Greek refugees report the landing of Japanese in force a few miles south of Kail Chou and a still light southeast of that place Thursday afternoon.

Investigation of the death of Lewis Elsol, correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, has been finished. The jury finds that there was not the slightest cause for attacking the correspondents and makes several recommendations, which Consul Miller does not wish to make public now.

WAR REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—An Associated Press Liao Yang dispatch contains the first Russian estimate of General Stakelberg's losses, placing them at 1,000 men and 20 officers. The present situation is not clear, though it is believed Stakelberg will continue to retire to the northward. It is possible reinforcements are being sent to his support.

Tokio, June 17.—It is probable that a fog has again saved the Vladivostok squadron. There are many rumors of the extent of action at sea, but they are not confirmed. Admiral Kamimura with a squadron is still chasing the enemy.

Details in connection with the sinking of the Japanese transport Hishiki by Russian warships are being furnished by survivors. When the Russian ships were sighted the transport attempted to escape, but the Russians opened a heavy fire directed about the water line and in a few minutes the decks were covered with corpses and awash with blood. One shell which struck the engine room killed 200 men. The ship began to fill rapidly.

Captain Campbell, the English master, jumped overboard and is numbered among the missing. The chief engineer was killed on the bridge. The commander of the troops ordered the flag burned and then committed suicide. The second mate also committed suicide. Many of the crew and troops escaped in boats. The transport Sado is still afloat, but badly damaged. She is being towed to the nearest port. When the Russian ships opened fire they shot down for those on board the Sado to leave the ship. The crew took to boats and in this way many escaped. The number of casualties is unobtainable.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—A dispatch from Vladivostok to day showing that the commander there is getting rid of the remaining civilian population strengthens belief here preparations are being made for preparation of the Port Arthur squadron and that active operations on the city are imminent.

Tokio, June 17.—A report received from Sado, near Sasebo, says sounds of cannonading have been heard off the coast. It is possible the Japanese fleet has met the Russians.

Cheo Foo, June 17.—Chinese arriving to day from Port Arthur and Dahn state fighting on land and sea continues at Port Arthur. These Chinese believe the Russians are unable to hold out and are preparing to destroy the place. They say 150,000 Japanese have landed on Liao Tung peninsula.

Tokio, June 17.—The steamer Iso has arrived at Kikura carrying more of the troops from the transport Sado. The Sado is being towed into port. The majority of the passengers of the Sado were rescued and a greater number of those on board the Hishiki annihilated.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—General Stakelberg telegraphs from Vantsil his army is resting there. General Nolsud's army is resting at Vafango. The Associated Press was informed a strong Russian force has been concentrated between Kail Chou and Hailcheng to cover the retreat of Stakelberg.

Liao Yang, June 17.—The wounded in the first two days' fighting at Vafango are arriving here. A lieutenant of Cossacks says American military attaches were with his command most of June 15 during the hottest of the fight. He commented upon their coolness and their professional interest in the operations to the exclusion of the idea of personal danger. One Russian battery pitted against the Japanese batteries was literally smothered by Japanese shells. The Russians fired several times on the Japanese infantry in close formation, causing tremendous havoc.

CAPTURE CORRESPONDENT.

Indianapolis, June 17.—A cablegram from Cheo Foo says Hector Fuller, staff war correspondent of the Indianapolis News, has been captured by four Russian soldiers and taken to Port Arthur, where he was blindfolded and placed in prison.

COMPLIED WITH DEMANDS.

Tangier, June 17.—News has been sent to Ralidi through the sheikh of Bazzan that all his demands have been complied with.

London, June 18.—The correspondent of the Mail at Tangier says:

"The ruffian Moorish troops are still here despite strong protests lodged with the authorities by Great Britain and the United States. It is stated the Americans are prepared to occupy the town with a thousand men unless the sultan withdraws these soldiers. Should the British be killed the United States will cast the Moroccan question into the melting pot."

NUMBER OF DEAD STILL UNKNOWN

MORE BODIES RECOVERED YESTERDAY

The Sad Task of Burying the Dead Has Begun—Three Investigations to Be Made of the New York Disaster.

New York, June 17.—Forty-eight hours after the burning of the steamer General Slocum the exact number of victims is still unknown. In the early hours of the morning a few bodies were brought to the morgue, bringing the total up to 52. Late in the morning a report came from divers at work on the bulk of the Slocum that they had discovered a mass of bodies wedged in one of the public toilets.

The number of missing is placed at between four and five hundred, but various officials still adhere to the belief that between nine hundred and a thousand persons perished.

The sad task of burying the dead began to day. While a many cases have been taken to the morgue, the coroner's office is still busy with the last sad rites over the dead.

The distressing concentration of the blow of the disaster is shown by the fact in one apartment house in Eighth street there are thirty-five dead, while in a Livingston street house sixteen bodies await burial.

Preliminary steps have been taken for three distinct investigations of the disaster. These will be undertaken by federal authorities through the department of commerce, but the coroner's office and by the district attorney.

The coroner's inquest will begin Monday. Captain Van Schaik of the Slocum and six of his crew lie in a bosquet with a policeman at the bedside of each. They are at present detained as witnesses.

There is in the coroner's possession a stamphope taken at his direction by a diver from the submerged wreck. The valve is closed tight, showing no use was made of this pipe in fighting the flames.

Statements were made to the coroner to day by several of the steambot employees that the captain of the Slocum sailed his boat three or four miles after the fire broke out before beaching her. Several watches showed that more than half an hour had elapsed from the breaking out of the fire until the boat was run ashore.

John J. Conkey, a deck hand on the Slocum, made a statement before Coroner Terry this afternoon that the flames were first discovered in hay which had been used in packing barrels of glassware. The barrels were placed in the store room where oil was stored. He also said that when the hose was unrolled it knicked so badly that it burst when the water was turned in.

GREAT MOTOR RACE

Frenchman Wins the Bennett Cup—Covered Course of 350 Miles.

Homburg, Prussia, June 17.—Thery, the French contestant, won to day's motor race for the James Gordon Bennett cup over a course of 350 miles. Jenatz, German, winner of last year's contest, was second. Emperor William, the empress, Prince Henry and other imperial representatives witnessed the start and displayed keen interest.

FAVOR USE OF OIL.

Washington, June 17.—The conclusions of the navy board which has been testing coal and oil as navy fuel has been made public. The board's opinion is favorable to the use of oil. It regards the mechanical features of the liquid fuel problem as practically and satisfactorily solved. For manufacturing purposes the financial and supply features of the fuel are the only hindrances to the use of crude petroleum as a standard fuel.

TRI-STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

St. Louis, June 17.—The Tri-State Medical society of Iowa, Illinois and Missouri to day elected Dr. Francis Reider, St. Louis, president; Drs. Daniel O'Dougherty, of Cherokee, Iowa, and Joseph T. White, of Peepot, Ill., vice presidents; Dr. E. C. Sesslon, of Keokuk, secretary. Keokuk was selected as the place for next year's meeting.

DELEGATS FAVOR PARKER.

Durant, I. T., June 17.—The Democratic territorial delegates to the national convention are unimpressed, but favor Parker for president.

MANY INJURED.

Boston, June 17.—As a result of carelessness in handling toy pistols, fire crackers and other explosives incidental to the Bunker Hill day celebration more than 300 people sought treatment at hospitals to day. Several of these were dangerously injured.

INSTITUTE CLOSED

Gathering of Teachers of the County Has Been a Most Successful One—Large Number in Attendance.

Friday was the closing day of what has been probably the most successful teachers' institute ever held in this county. About 200 were in attendance, including practically all the teachers of the county. Many who went home the first week returned, bringing others with them for the second week, and the interest increased as the work proceeded.

While much credit is due the capable instructors for their excellent work in making their lectures interesting and helpful, the faithful and tireless energy of the county superintendent, H. C. Montgomery, must not be overlooked. To him more than to anyone else is the success of the institute due.

The instructors were much gratified by the interest manifested and the large attendance of the classes, together with the perfect feeling of harmony and unity of purpose exhibited at all times. There was absolutely no friction during the two weeks of the institute, and yesterday one of the instructors remarked upon the fact, saying that it is an unusual thing to have such perfect agreement in gatherings of this kind. He said the teachers seemed to be of an exceptionally high grade, which speaks well for the work in this county.

Altogether the institute was an enjoyable, as well as an instructive course, and will be far-reaching in its benefits.

The teachers enrolled during the two weeks were as follows:

|                  |                     |
|------------------|---------------------|
| W. S. Barnes     | W. H. Coston        |
| Mrs. K. Hamilton | Genevieve Mount     |
| Oliver L. Stone  | Elizabeth Hickman   |
| Mayzie Zachary   | W. T. Dyer          |
| H. L. Lemon      | W. M. Vaughn        |
| Paul Whitney     | Albert Ewert        |
| Lottie Weber     | Laella Handline     |
| Edie McCrory     | Minnie Lutkeneyer   |

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

Baking by Electricity.
A baker's oven heated by electricity is a novelty at Montauban, France. The heating elements, numbering twenty, are placed at the side or the interior, and heat is quickly applied and cut off at once, with a considerably saving of time. No heat is lost up the chimney, as the only opening is the door through which the bread is passed.

A NEW PRINCIPLE IN MEDICAL SCIENCE.

For years it has been the practice of medical men to treat patients suffering from piles by local, external applications. These treatments give but temporary relief, but have never effected a positive cure.

After months of research and study, accompanied by actual experience with various patients, Dr. C. A. Perrin arrived at a positive conclusion as to the exact action of the various parts of the bowel system, under different conditions, and when subjected to various prescriptions.

He finally prepared that wonderful internal remedy known as DR. PERRIN'S PILE SPECIFIC, which is put up in bottles, retailing at all reliable drug stores for $1.00 each. This internal remedy has been on the market for the past ten years, and in all of that time there has been but three cases where a positive cure has not been effected.

Dr. Perrin's Pile Specific is sold under a positive guarantee by the druggist making the sale, to refund the full purchase price, providing the remedy fails to cure. This is the absolute proof of its merit. Any man or woman who suffers from blind, bleeding, itching or internal piles can try this internal remedy with the absolute certainty that it will cost nothing unless it cures. Here is what one sufferer says of this wonderful remedy:

Dr. C. A. Perrin, Helena, Mont.—I wish to thank you for the cure your wonderful medicine has done for me. I had the piles some five years, and under the advice of a doctor had them removed by the knife and felt free for awhile, but they returned and I at once got a bottle of your Perrin's Pile Specific and one bottle has entirely cured me, and I am as good as I ever was.

Yours truly,

JACK SULLIVAN, Chicago.

Better get a bottle of your druggist today and get relief from present and future suffering.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root, and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it has seemed good to our allwise Providence to remove from our midst our beloved brother, A. J. Adams, whose untimely demise leaves to mourn his devoted wife, relatives and friends. Although cut down in the prime of life he has left a monument in his works which this union will hold in his memory. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the Cigarmakers' union, No. 114, of Jacksonville, Ill., extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family of deceased, who have lost a kind husband and father; and be it

Resolved, That we feel in his death the loss of a conscientious and efficient co-worker, and that these resolutions be entered upon our records and that a copy be sent to the family of deceased and printed in Jacksonville daily papers and that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days.

A UNIQUE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

The business men of Argentine, Mo., have come to the conclusion that there is only one way to have good roads, says the Record-Herald. That is by building them. They have decided, therefore, to give up a day to the business of repairing the road between their town and Kansas City. All the stores, banks, hotels, newspaper offices and other business houses of Argentine are to be closed for an entire day in order that every man in the place may get out with a pick or a shovel and work on the road. By doing this the citizens of Argentine think they can be reasonably sure that there will be something to show when they get through for the sacrifice of their time and the exerting of their muscles. There will be no chance for unscrupulous contractors or public officials to steal or misappropriate their money.

The business men of Argentine are wise in recognizing the importance of good roads, and they are to be commended for the earnestness with which they are endeavoring to increase the mileage of improved highways in this country. It is to be hoped that Argentine has no teamsters' union which may decide at the last moment that the business men are exceeding their rights in wanting better roads, and so put a stop to a project that seems to be so praiseworthy.

OPENING OF NICHOLS PARK.

The announcement made Friday morning that Nichols park would be formally opened with a Masonic picnic was somewhat incorrect, owing to a mis-understanding. The park is for everybody, fraternal orders, churches, people of no church or society affiliations, and in fact, all persons who conduct themselves properly are always welcome at the park. When it is formally opened all fraternal orders, all societies of any kind, all churches of all denominations and creeds, all citizens whether members of any order or church or not, all will be asked to participate in the affair and make it as great an occasion as possible. Nobody will be kept out except of his own free will, or improper conduct; but all will be heartily welcome.

THE ILLINOIS INSTRUCTIONS FOR HEARST.

The Illinois Democracy's instructions for Hearst will hardly do that candidate either good or harm, says the Record-Herald. At the beginning of this week he had 101 instructed delegates, against Parker's 148. The uninstructed delegates numbered 431 and scattering instructions, 58. Since then three conventions have been held, Illinois bringing Hearst's total up to 155, and Mississippi and Arkansas bringing Parker up to 186. Eight or ten conventions are still to be held.
It is evident that the uninstructed delegates will have the say at the convention at St. Louis, but one has only to look over the list of the states which have refused to give instructions to see that the great majority of them are, if not certain to favor Parker, at least uncompromisingly opposed to Hearst and all that he represents. The full Hearst vote at the convention may be expected to reach a total of about 200, or only one-fifth of the entire number of votes. So while Illinois will furnish a quarter of the Hearst strength it will not affect the result one way or the other.
The main interest in Illinois' action is purely one of feelings. Do Messrs. Cable, Eckels and their friends feel happy as they contemplate the approaching moment when they must vote—and shout—for Hearst? Does Mr. Hearst feel happy as he contemplates the results he has got for his money?

WILL VOTERS APPROVE IT?

The Springfield Register, one of the strongest Democratic dailies in the state, is still mercilessly criticizing Hopkins' control of the state Democratic convention by means of minority shouters, gag rule and an unscrupulous gavel. The Register's own description is enough to cause all thoughtful citizens to turn to the nominees of the Republican convention, in which the majority controlled and every delegate had an equal voice. The Register says:
"Acting under orders from the John Parker Hopkins gang, the door keepers, sentinels and guards, some of whom were Chicago thugs over whom Hopkins' sergeant-at-arms had jurisdiction, gave a display of officiousness at the Democratic state convention that is without precedent. Even the hair-lifting tales of prison life in Siberia do not tell of such official gall. It seemed from the manner in which the sentinels on the convention floor conducted themselves that they had been given implicit orders to keep the Hearst or anti-Hopkins men as far back in the hall as possible and to let the Hopkins men go where they pleased. At the outer doors no Hearst man could pass until he presented a certain kind of ticket. A Hopkins man could go through with nothing more than a Hopkins badge or wink, and thus the Hopkins rosters were allowed to overrun the floor of the convention in company with Hopkins delegates, while no Hearst men except delegates were allowed admission to the Hopkins temple. The arrangement which was part of the Hopkins conspiracy and gag-gavel rule convention plans, was to have the Hearst men seated in the remote corners of the hall and the Hopkins men right under the speaker's stand to perfect the gag rule. An aisle was left down the center of the hall as wide as a park boulevard. The Hearst men realized the object of this plan as soon as Quinn and his gavel were in action. Hundreds of Hopkins rosters crowded down the aisles and when the eye and no votes were called there was a roar from the Hopkins rosters who shouted 'aye' when Hopkins told them to bawl 'aye,' and who bawled out 'nay' when so directed by the Hopkins chairman.
"It was an outrageous act with Hopkins and his lieutenants directing that the majority of the convention have no rights and no voice in the convention and that decency and Democracy be trampled under foot."

of that city: "The disappearance of the Journal from the list of separate and independent publications points to an important lesson to the advertising world. Here is an honorable and able journal that has been in continuous existence for more than three-quarters of a century. Another paper of simultaneous hours of publication comes into the field. A fair inference is that neither finds it profitable to operate alone, and in the interests of both, the two are merged. The fact is the business of publishing a newspaper has become so expensive—that is, if the paper is to maintain a high, modern standard of efficiency—that few communities are large and rich enough to support properly more than one important morning and one similar afternoon paper."

LAWN FESTIVAL

Held at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gray Under the Auspices of Mutual Protective League.

Lincoln council No. 455, M. P. L., gave a lawn fete last evening at the residence of S. B. Gray on West College avenue which proved to be one of the kind which have been held so far this season. The attendance was all that could be desired and everybody was well satisfied, as excellent entertainment had been provided.
Besides the ice cream and cake tables, there was a lemonade stand, a "fish pond" and candy booth, all prettily decorated. The lawn was strung with numerous Japanese lanterns and a number of large gasolene torches added brilliancy to the scene. Two large flags and an abundance of bunting completed the elaborate decorations.
The most enjoyable feature of the evening was the concert given by the Mallory Brothers and their wives. The program was of the usual standard of excellence and consisted of many numbers, all of which were enthusiastically received.
The committees in charge of this successful event were Mesdames Carter, Jackson, Timmerman, Coffman and Molohon, committee on arrangements, and Ed Jackson, S. P. Carter, W. F. Timmerman and W. O. Coffman, decorating committee.

LOST VALUABLE DOG.

S. L. Perry, of the firm of Baker & Perry, is mourning the loss of his fine hunting dog "Dash." Friday morning the poor creature was found stiff and cold in the back yard and the supposition is that he had been poisoned, and if so and if it was done purposely it was a heartless trick, for there was never a better natured dog in the world, and certainly his owner has no enemies capable of such an act.

A BOER VETERAN

Frank Padgett, a Former Jacksonville Boy, returns to His Native Land After a Year and Nine Months Spent in Boer Army.

The friends of Frank Padgett were surprised and pleased to meet the young man Friday, after an absence of several years. A Journal reporter found him and learned a story which he deemed worth publishing. Mr. Padgett said substantially:

"In 1899 I left this country for Europe, in the employ of the Pope Manufacturing company, for the purpose of selling bicycles. After a while I was transferred from London to South Africa, where people naturally suppose there is little progress and civilization, and which opinions they hasten to revise as soon as opportunity offers. Johannesburg, Capetown, Durban, Grahamstown, East London and many other places which might be mentioned, have electric railroads, fine buildings and all the modern improvements, while automobiles are by no means uncommon. In general they are up with the times, but it must be added that they have drawn largely on this country for talent. Practically all their expert mining engineers and most of the architects are Americans, while a great part of the machinery, and about all that is used in the mines, is of United States manufacture, and lots of the locomotives, street cars and other things used there were made in our country. I did business for the Pope company for seven months after my arrival, and then the war broke out and as I had many good friends among the Dutch merchants and had a good many friends volunteering, I decided to go with the Boers, not supposing the war would last more than sixty days, for I felt certain it would be fixed up come way, as had been the case in the past. The army was a motley affair. All we had supplied to us was to each a Mauser rifle, bandoliers, which are really cartridge belts around the shoulders and holding 200 rounds, and a horse, as there was no such thing as infantry. No uniforms, no commissary or quartermaster's department, no regimental or company organizations were known; but each largely for himself and subsisting off the country. A commandant (accent on last syllable) comprised an indefinite number of men in command of an officer. The one under whom I served for some time was Col. Vil Jeon, now at St. Louis in charge of the Boer exhibit there. We had a few heliographs and some dispatch riders, but in general there were few facilities for communicating between the different commands. The general in chief was Botha and he was indeed a genius. We had two fine artilleryists, one Colonel Schiel, a German, and Colonel Blake, a graduate of West Point. He brought over with him from New York nearly 800 men, but with few exceptions they were not much force. The Boers bought a lot of shells for their artillery and after sending them to the desired destination noticed with field glasses that they did not explode, and after examining them found they were loaded with sand; had it been otherwise the result of the war might have been different.

"The first part of the war we fared pretty well, living always off the country or convoys taken from the British, but the last year we almost starved and I would not have believed we could have managed to keep alive on what we were able to get. For months all we had was what we captured from the enemy, and often that was an uncertain source of supplies. I was part of a command that had the privilege of taking all we could from the enemy and rushing it across the line to the Portuguese possessions, and selling it for what we could and receiving 20 per cent of the returns, and in that way I managed to save up a little, but it was hazardous work.

"I was in the service two years and nine months and had enough to last me the rest of my life. It was almost constant fighting of some sort. For six months we failed but five days to have more or less of it and sometimes it was lively. I think De Wet was the smartest military man I ever saw. The way he would slip out of the clutches of the enemy was a caution. The British had fortified a long line with block houses and great barbed wire fences between and a deep ditch alongside the fence. The enemy would always try to round us up with the wire fence right in front of us, when annihilation seemed the only outcome; yet I never once knew De Wet to be caught. Sometimes he would round up a lot of native cattle in front of the army, stampede them toward the wire fence and ditch, when they would rush frantically away, fill the ditch with their dead bodies, break down the fence, and then we would put spurs to our horses and fly over the dead bodies of the cattle to safety beyond. When the cattle gave out more than once De Wet would take a trusty soldier, write a pretended dispatch to Botha, stating that the command was hemmed in and would that night attempt to get away through a certain pass in the mountains. Of course De Wet expected the courier to be captured and reading the dispatches the British would mass their forces at the place mentioned, while the sly De Wet would slip out another way.

"I was wounded but once and that was during a rather insignificant engagement at Kopjefontein, when an exploding shell sent a lot of splinters and pieces into my leg, shattering it to some extent and giving me a case of blood poisoning from the pieces of corroded brass. I was laid by for five weeks, during which time I had to be helped on my horse and cared for as best they might, for there were no hospitals or means of looking after the ailing. Our experience at Spion Kop was sad indeed. There were 1,600 dead men from both sides and it was well nigh impossible to give them anything like a decent burial owing to the condition of the ground and the lack of tools, so all either side could do was to lay the bodies side by side and cover them as best we might. I hope never to have such an experience again.

"The British were very magnanimous to the conquered foe. Each farmer who would take the oath of allegiance was given back his farm and assistance in adaptation and all who had no farms were each given one hundred pounds if they would swear allegiance to Queen Victoria. If they refused they were deported. I was anxious to get back to my native land and shall always remember with gratitude the conduct of Consul General Stone, now of Kansas City. He said he would see that I wasn't sent to St. Helena and advised me not to take the oath and I followed his suggestion and the result was that I had first class free passage to London and then thinking I wouldn't be a desirable resident they sent me on to New York in the same manner and having a little means which I had saved while having the privilege of selling captured goods to the Portuguese I was able to get to Chicago.

Mr. Padgett had a thrilling experience and like his father, who served in the cavalry most capably during the civil war, he participated in numerous engagements. One man would hold four horses and the other three would advance to the firing line and all became expert marksmen. DeWet was only a plain farmer, but he had a wonderful genius for military strategy. Mr. Padgett's modesty kept him from relating much the writer would have enjoyed hearing and it was only by persistent questioning that anything was gained. His home is now in Chicago and for some months he has been traveling for the American Steel and Wire company of that city. He is looking wonderfully well and is being greeted by a good many of his former friends here. He is unmarried and makes his home with his mother. Were she willing he would like to return to South Africa, but he will not leave her.

Although Mr. Padgett was a member of the Boer army and did his duty bravely he made a thorough examination of conditions after the war was over and wholly sympathized with the British. He said the cause they fought for was exactly the same that animated the fathers of this country in the war of the revolution: representation with taxation. Time after time the British were urged to bring capital to South Africa and invest in enterprises there and then were subjected to all sorts of indignities and when complaint was made the Boers would make the most faithful promises to reform matters and do nothing and not intend to do anything. The presence of the English has been a great blessing to the country, he thinks, and since the unhappy conflict the land is making good progress toward restoration and recuperation. Mr. Padgett says that wherever the British colonize the country they prove a great benefit to it, and the Boers are no exception.

TEN YEARS IN BED. R. A. Gray, J. P., Oakville, Ind., writes: "For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys. It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a Godsend to me." Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE*St. Louis Bag For Travelers.

For the average woman there are two points of especial importance in the matter of a handbag. It must be lightweight and if possible inexpensive. The pleasure of traveling is entirely gone for a woman if she must carry about with her a heavy bag, no matter how stylish and convenient it may be.

Well, all this difficulty can be avoided if you will take the trouble to make for yourself one of the new "St. Louis handbags." They are very inexpensive and not at all hard to make. They weigh but a few ounces and are distinctly smart and individual in effect.

Get striped linen, tan with wide brown or black stripes, cut a strip two feet wide by four long, line with stout crash and bind the edges with brown or black cotton braid. Before binding machine stitch dark brown velvet or satin ribbon or braid over the stripes of linen, so as to make a trimming of two clusters of three bands each.

Where the binding is put on feather-stitch the outside with yellow wash silk. The handle is stout rope, covered with linen or braid, and fastened on after the bag is lined for extra security.

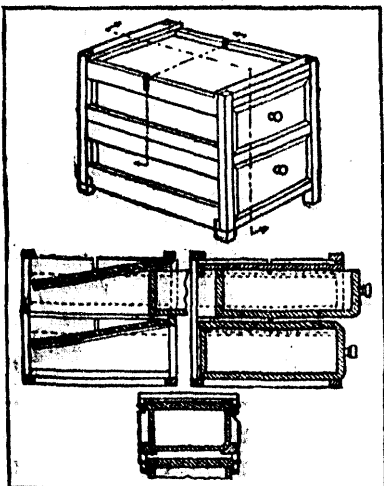

Of course where anything very heavy is carried it is a good idea to use a shawl strap. These bags make charming gifts to women who are going to St. Louis this summer or in fact for women who intend to do any traveling at all this season.

They are also made of brown taffeta trimmed with brown velvet bands, of gray linen trimmed with scarlet and black and of all linen color with braid the same shade.

They are so light that a child can carry one, and yet they are new enough and pretty enough to add an appearance of smartness to a traveling outfit.

Drawers Without Dust.

Many a housewife and museum curator has had good reason to regret that drawers as a rule are neither dust nor vermin proof. To have your treasures, whether they consist of linens, books or unreplaceable specimens, ruined when they were apparently secure from anything but a fire is disheartening, to say the least. Two Sewedish inventors of Providence, R. I., realizing the field that exists for a dust and insect proof drawer, put their ingenuity to work and have evolved a very simple but effective construction. The es-sentinal feature of the construction is a wooden or metallic cover for each individual drawer. Three edges of this cover, the sides and the rear, are provided with a downwardly extending flange adapted to close in the sides and back end of the drawer. The front edge terminates under a flange forming an integral part of the supporting framework. This cover is pivoted at some nearly central point, and as a drawer is withdrawn beyond this pivotal point the cover drops down at the back and raises correspondingly in the front, allowing the drawer to be entirely withdrawn without displacing the cover. The drawers and covers may be made of wood, metal or any suitable material.

A "Stitch In Time" Bag.
A busy woman keeps a "stitch in time" bag hanging from the arm of her favorite low sewing rocker. In it are pockets for buttons of various kinds, spools of silk and cotton, a needlebook provided with needles of different sizes, a glove mending outfit and two pairs of scissors. A pair of especially powerful spectacles, inclosed in a stout leather case, are slipped into a long, narrow pocket at one side, which is buttoned down to prevent their roaming loose among the other things and suffering fracture. Thus at a moment's notice she is ready to take up a dropped stitch in her young son's mittens or put a missing button upon the shirt of her lord and master.

Care of Growing Plants.

A growing plant should be kept in the room with a piano, says a piano tuner. As long as the plant thrives the piano will. The reason that a piano is injured by a dry, overheated room is that all the moisture is taken out of the sounding board. The board is forced into the case so tightly that it bulges up in the center, and, though the wood is supposed to be as dry as possible when this is done, it contains some moisture and gathers more damp. When this moisture is dried out the board flattens and finally cracks.

Plate Rails Are Hackneyed.

Plate rails have become so hackneyed that the ordinary kind that runs straight around a room is no longer in high favor with artistic decorators or housewives. Any treatment that is out of the ordinary, shelves across the tops of doors or windows, is still desirable.

TIMID HERBERT.

He Failed to Tell Amelia of His Love For Her.

Herbert stopped rowing, ostensibly to rest. "Amelia," he said with an elaborate affectation of unconcern to the young woman sitting in the stern of the boat, "there's a friend of mine that's head over heels—head over ears, I mean—in love with a beautiful girl and as good as she is beautiful. He has known her ever to many years, and he has been going to see her a long time, but he's too big a coward—that's what he says—to ask her, you know, if?"

Here his voice trembled a little, and he paused to wipe his perspiring brow. "Beautiful girl, is she?" queried the young woman, idly dipping her fingers in the water at the side of the boat. "Loveliest in the world—that's what he says, I mean."

"What's her name?" "He'd—he'd rather not have her name mentioned."

"Friend of yours, you say? Who is he?" "Oh, I don't dare to tell you who he is. He might not like it."

"Very much in love with her, is he?" "Clean gone. He says it makes him fairly ache."

"And he's afraid to tell her so?" "Yes. He—he says he can't guess from the way she treats him whether she—or—likes him or not. He's a coward—that's what he is."

"What are you telling me about him for?" "Well, he—he asked me what I thought he'd better do, and I couldn't advise him. I suppose I'd be just as big a coward as he is. That's why I'm asking you. Wh-what do you think he ought to do? Tell her and run the risk?"

"I am sure I don't know." "Herbert gasped, swallowed and changed the subject."

"Isn't this water clear?" he said. "You can see the sand and the stones at the bottom. How deep it is, and yet how transparent!"

"Yes," she said. "So like you, Herbert!"

"Dear girl," he whispered fifteen minutes later as he stroked her pompadour caressingly, "how did you know I was telling you my own story?"

"Oh, you goose!"—Chicago Tribune.

Shutting the Barn Door.

Harry had been forbidden by his grandfather to play with the pump, which play invariably ended in a drenching. The one way to prevent this catastrophe often proved to be tying up the pump. Once the old gentleman heard a great splashing and spluttering in the back yard and ran out in haste to the rescue. A half-drowned Harry met him, hastening toward the house as fast as his soaked feet would carry him. "Oh, drat!" he called in a voice that seemed drowned, too, "lie up the pump; tie up the pump!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

The Decorator and His Bill.

The decorator had just made his estimate. "I'll tell you what I'll do," said the householder. "You go ahead and decorate the house, and then I'll give it to you in payment of your bill."

"No," replied the decorator. "I couldn't afford to take the house for more than half payment."—Chicago Post.

His Belief.

"Do you think that dollars should dominate our politicians?" "Not at all," answered Senator Sorghum. "Quite the contrary. I believe that every politician should make it his business to dominate as many dollars as possible."—Washington Star.

Anxious For Particulars.

"I see that some New York girl nearly broke the bank at Monte Carlo not long ago."

"Is that so? What's her intention, problem play or musical comedy?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY*A Politician War Horse.

John Dalzell, whose spirited tilt with W. Bourke Cockran enlivened the closing hours of the last session of congress, is one of the old time Republican leaders of the house of representatives, of which he has been a member for nine consecutive terms.

Mr. Dalzell was born in New York city April 10, 1815. His parents came from County Down, Ireland, in 1840. Two years later they removed to Pittsburg. Here he received his early education at the public schools and at the Western university, then at Yale, whence he was graduated in 1865. He studied law and was admitted to the bar two years later. Acquiring an extensive practice, he became the head of the firm of Dalzell, Scott & Gordon.

Mr. Dalzell is credited with an ambition to become United States senator. He has also been prominently mentioned in connection with the speakership of the house of representatives.

Ned Harrigan's Stagecoach Trip.

Ned Harrigan was contrasting his own stagecoach trip to the Pacific coast with the special train luxury of a modern company. "Things were very different for theatrical wanderers in the sixties," said Mr. Harrigan. "Going by stage from one small town to another near San Francisco, I sat outside with the driver. The man who occupied the box seat on the other side of him asked:

"Say, Bill, did you see that show last night?"

"I should say I did," was the reply of the driver, "and if ever I got hold of the troupe that gave that show I'd blow them full of holes. They wasn't worth shucks."

"Say, Bill," continued my companion on the box, "do you mean to say you don't know you've got them show folks inside this trip?"

"No, I don't," replied the driver, suddenly pulling up.

"He jumped from the box," continued Mr. Harrigan, "and threw open the door of the coach. 'Now, all you folks git out,' he roared, 'every one of ye. It's eight miles to the next town, and you've got to tramp it. You won't suffer any more'n you made me suffer last night!'"

"I thought he was going to overlook me, but the other fellows in the company took care of that. I got down and walked with the others, and it was the longest eight miles I ever tramped. But Bill was not to be appeased. For no money would he let us ride any farther in his coach. Furthermore, he saw to it that the story was well told in the hotel barroom before we got there."

Later the guests adjourned to the Country club and spent the evening in dancing. Marcy Osborne, Cole Rowe, Harold Brook, George Orear, Earl Wylder and Fred Carriel.

MACKERAL BRIGADE

Promises to Be One of Features of the Fourth of July Celebration—Prize of $5 for Funniest Costume.

This will be, perhaps, one of the best features of the Fourth of July celebration. It is very little known in this part of the country, but is very much indulged in in other parts of the country. It consists of a parade of people, men, boys and women, if they wish, dressed up in grotesque costumes. To the man having the funniest make-up is awarded the prize and he has to walk around the square in advance of the balance of the paraders.

This can be made the funniest thing imaginable, if properly carried out. All persons desiring to take part in this parade, will please hand their names to the chairman, T. H. Buckthorpe, on or before July 1.

All those desiring to take part in the races and athletic contests will please hand their names to Prof. J. H. Rayhill, who has charge of the athletic contests; also of the sports. The prize for the mackerel brigade will be $5 in cash to the man or boy having the funniest make-up. Let all the boys and young men who love sport make up for this event. This is only one of the funny things. Remember the sack race, the obstruction race, the dumping eating contest, egg race and fat man's race. The dumpings in the dumping eating contest will be covered with molasses. Bring your baby and your grandma, your neighbor and your mother-in-law. Take good care of your mother-in-law.

$2.00 to ST. LOUIS, ALTON and intermediate stations and return via THE ALTON, Sunday, June 19, and every Sunday thereafter until further notice; good returning only on date of sale on train leaving St. Louis 7:00 p. m. One fare for round trip to stations between Jacksonville and Alton upon same conditions.

FIVE CENTS TO NICHOLS' PARK

An Arrangement for Transportation to That Resort Has Been Made.

For some time many have deplored the fact that there were no adequate facilities for getting to Nichols park, but the Journal is happy to announce that an attempt is to be begun to day to solve the difficulty, and while it is not what we would like, it is a whole lot better than nothing. With eminent public spirit and generosity, Miss Frances Hook has agreed to transfer with the owner of a spring wagon from the south end of the Main street line. The conditions will be these: All persons desiring to go to the park may buy a ticket for ten cents; at the south end of the line a wagon will be in waiting at the times mentioned below, and will accept a part of the ticket for fare to the park gate and return, and the other part of the ticket will bring the holder back to the city on the street car. In other words, a person may board a street car at any point on the line, buy a ticket which will take him to the park gate and back to the city. Commutation books will not be good for this purpose; only the special ten cent tickets, which Miss Hook will issue to day. Thus for five cents a person may ride to the park gate from any part of the street railroad line and for five cents return.

The owner of the wagon has promised to be at the south end at 3:30 p. m. to day and to stay during the evening if business will justify, and to be on hand all day to morrow. After to morrow the amount of time the wagon will be ready for business will depend on the amount of patronage. If circumstances warrant he will be there a greater part of the day and each morning due announcement will be made. All citizens are urged to patronize the line and encourage the attempt in every way possible.

THE DEATH RECORD.

ALFORD.

Mary E Spires was born Aug. 21, 1851, and was married to William D. Alford March 8, 1877. She died June 15, 1904, making her age 52 years, 9 months and 24 days.

She was the mother of five children, four of whom are still living. Charles Edward, the eldest, died June 24, 1882, at the age of 2 years 1 month and 17 days. She united with the Methodist church at about the age of 16 or 17 and during her life was a devoted Christian. Her entire life, with the exception of one summer, was spent in this neighborhood, and during this time she has won many friends who will miss her sadly.

During the summer of 1902 she spent ten week in Colorado with the hope of benefiting her health; she later spent three months in Jacksonville under a physician's care, which proved to be of little benefit.

Besides her husband and children she leaves two brothers, two sisters and numerous other relatives and friends, who mourn her loss.

Funeral services were held at Providence church Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Mr. Brown. About a thousand relatives and friends of the family gathered to pay a last tribute of love and respect to the dead.

Interment was in the neighboring cemetery, the burials being Marion Spires, Harvey Conlee, Louie Taylor, Albert Conlee, George Spires and Edward Spires.

SLOAN.

James Sloan, a well known resident of this city, passed away at his boarding house, 413 South Clay avenue, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The remains were taken soon after his death to the residence of his nephew, Terrence Sloan, 999 East Lafayette avenue.

Mr. Sloan was born in Newry, County Down, Ireland, in 1831 and came to this country fifty-five years ago. He was ever an industrious and energetic worker and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of those who knew him best.

He had never married and his only surviving relatives are one nephew, Terrence Sloan, of this city, and two nieces living in Ireland, and one niece living in Detroit, Mich.

The funeral will be conducted from the Church of Our Savior Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

"How do you want to pay for it?" he asked.

"Ay pay all. Ay hav da money."

"All right. I'll make out the deed," said the agent.

"No," said Ole Olsen. "Ay no want deed."

"Yes, you do," argued the agent. "You pay the money, and you get the deed."

"I'm afraid I'll disagree with you," remarked Jonah as the whale swallowed him.

"Perhaps," replied the sagacious whale, "but it won't be a circumstance to the way the theologians will disagree when they come to discuss this incident."—Philadelphia Press.

NEW TIME CARD

Alton Officials Have Arranged for Re-assignment of Motive Power—Other Changes.

In anticipation of the new time card in effect Sunday, the Alton officials have been arranging the assignment of power. It has been decided to use the 250 class engines exclusively on western division passenger and all that class except those in the shops, will be used on the runs between Kansas City and Louisiana. The joint track arrangement with the Burlington goes into effect with the new card and it is not yet known whether the Alton will supply all the power or not. If the Alton can spare the engines, it is likely that the Burlington will furnish the extra equipment for the joint trains. It has been decided to handle all trains for St. Louis via Louisiana and the Burlington, instead of via Roodhouse, and this will cut off a number of crews from Roodhouse and points south.

In the new time card the principal changes will be on the runs west from Bloomington. There will be two crews between Bloomington and Tallula and one between Tallula and Roodhouse. It has been decided to construct the proposed "Y" at Tallula immediately and turn the engines there. This will avoid running through between Bloomington and Roodhouse, as is now necessary. A force of section men will go to work immediately putting in the "Y" and track necessary. The road has bought the required land. In case that the "Y" is not ready by Sunday engines will be backed from Roodhouse to Bloomington until it is ready. Instead of having the night lay over at Tallula, the night lay over will be at Roodhouse, the crew starting out from Roodhouse in the morning and getting back by evening.—Roodhouse Eye-Herald.

HOUSE PARTY.

A number of young ladies and gentlemen will leave this morning to be guests at a house party near Decatur, at the pleasant home of Miss Elizabeth Turner. The following will attend: Miss Genevieve Alexander, of this city; Miss Pauline Hull and Miss Helen Edwards, of Chicago; Earl Wylder, Cole Rowe, Marcy Osborne, George Orear and Fred Carriel, of this city.
